APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT

Commercial Interests Petition Roosevelt to Take a Personal Hand in Telegraphers Strike--Labor Leaders Will Confer

Chicago, Aug. 14.—The Chicago Board of Trade has formally called upon President Roosevelt to take a personal hand in settling the present strike of telegraphers and avert a catastrophe.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 14.—President Roosevelt was asked by the Produce Exchange to act as mediator in the telegrapher's strike. A telegram to that effect was sent him today.

Following the arrival in Chicago of Sylvester J. Small, president of the Commercial Telegrapher's Union, it is expected that the issue in the strike now in progress will come before a conference between the leader and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, with Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor, and Wesley Russell, secretary of the Commercial Telegraphers' union.

Commercial interests in the United States have manifested their discomfort under its effect by making in several cases a demand upon the president to undertake the task of bringing the contending forces to an agreement.

more the challenge of C. N. Haskell for a series of joint debates.

DEBATE WAS A HOT ONE

"Cyclone" Davis and W. M. Hicks Discuss Prohibition--Also Each Other, Making the Fur Fly

The people of Ada turned out en masse Wednesday night, expectant of a lively debate on prohibition between Rev. W. M. Hicks of Guthrie, and Judge J. H. Davis, of Sulphur Springs, Texas. And the crowd was by no means disappointed. The discussion was one of sustained interest from beginning to end, at times fairly bristling with excitement.

Both speakers are veterans of the platform. Judge Davis has a national reputation as a forensic "cyclone" and Rev. Hicks is a "live wire" in his line. Dr. F. Z. Holley and Carlton Weaver jointly presided at the meeting, which was held in the open air on Broadway. The former introduced Hicks who opened the debate with a speech of one hour and 5 minutes. Mr. Weaver then presented Judge Davis, who spoke for the same length of time, followed by a rejoinder of 25 minutes by the first speaker. It was near midnight when the last word was said, but so intense was the interest almost everyone of the great crowd remained to the end.

Hicks explained to the audience that he came not to defend liquor, nor representing the liquor interests, but to oppose the plan of state wide prohibition. Insisting he, too, desired the abolition of the liquor traffic, he argued that local option was the only practical effectual plan for suppressing the same; that the state-wide plan had universally proven a failure; that it does not and can not actually prohibit in communities where the majority of the people are not in sympathy with the law forced upon them. In support of his assertions the speaker produced numerous statistics. By these he endeavored to show that under state-wide prohibition crime and pauperism springing from jointism and bootlegism are more plentiful than with licensed saloons.

Judge Davis in his address laid down the premise that the traffic in intoxicating liquors is essentially an evil that should be suppressed; that local option is nothing more than prohibition in spots—the two being slightly different means to the same end. His opponent he said, had urged the identical arguments the liquor interests always urge when a prohibition campaign is on, had quoted the same statistics and used the same acties of advocating some other remedy. The enemy dare not make any defense of the traffic—it has none. All the laws re violated with local option, the jointists and bootleggers will invade the counties just as they do under state-wide prohibition. It is simply a question of officers doing their duty. As well ridicule the gambling and pistol law because men persist in gambling and carrying weapons, as to oppose prohibition because men will violate the law.

After painting in blackest colors the evils of the saloon and the woes to mankind emanating from it, the speaker graphically described the lineup in the present campaign: The churches, the ministers, most of the good people—God's forces—on the one side; on the other the breweries, the saloons, every bum, thug, vagabond, and bootlegger—most underscrable company for good men.

Then Judge Davis read a number of letters and certificates reflecting upon the integrity and consistency of his opponent, tending to prove Hicks had applied to the Anti-Saloon League of Oklahoma for employment in the present campaign, and that subsequently for a handsome sum he had gone over to the so-called "Citizen's League" to fight prohibition. The speaker closed with an eloquent appeal to all good people to vote right and bring the new state into the union clean.

The personal arraignment of Hicks appeared to be a smashing one. However, when he arose for his rejoinder he made a right clever defense, claiming all his correspondence with the anti-saloon league contemplated prohibition only through the means of local option. The big retainer from the brewery interests and other reflections upon his integrity he denounced as infamously false. He insisted the penses had nothing to do with the liquor interests, that the latter were naturally against both prohibition and local option. Judge Davis, he said, had merely indulged in oratorical generalities and had failed to answer a scintilla of his arguments.

At numerous periods both speakers were liberally applauded, but the bulk of the audience was manifestly in sympathy with the prohibition clause.

THURSDAY'S OKLAHOMAN.

As Oklahoman's Ada Correspondent Saw the Debate Wednesday Night.

Ada, I. T., Aug. 14.—W. L. Hicks, a traveling representative of the Citizens' League, and "Cyclone Jim" Davis debated the prohibition question here tonight before an audience of 2,000 persons. Hicks, who favored local option, won out and challenged Davis to go with him to Oklahoma City to present the issues to an audience there, volunteering to pay all expenses, but the offer was declined.

Oklahoma Central Plans.

Chichasha, I. T., Aug. 15.—Officials of the Oklahoma Central in Blanchard stated positively that the road would be finished into Chichasha within the next thirty days. The road is finished into Blanchard, twenty-five miles east of here, and the grade is completed to this city. The steel gang is working several miles east of Blanchard. The officers would say nothing in regard to the rumor of the road's being sold to eastern capital, but stated the road had plenty of money to finish the construction.

A SHADY RECORD.

"The true test of the party's worth is in its record; not promises, but performance; not pledges, but deeds."—Republican platform.

Good point! Glad it was mentioned. Might have been overlooked had not attention been called to it.

But before going backward let us note the present attitude. So far as the enigma in that platform is capable of solution, the sole purpose of the party in regard to the constitution and attending statehood is to obstruct.

After plucking a bunch of eagle feathers from that proud but much abused bird, the platform opens with these words: "And we denounce." Then follows a list of adjectives that would puzzle the most learned lexicographer this side of the great Noah Webster and make the shade of John J. Ingalls turn pale and take to the thickets of the Elysion fields, or such other fields as would best hide his shame.

But the substantives and definite meaning, it is as void the mud flats of the Mississippi delta are of sand storms of the Sahara desert. "We denounce" is the keynote. A nice start for a party that claims to do things, but actually permorms the simple role of obstructionist and denunciator of other men's work.

Then the party of "not pledges, but deeds" opens a keg of molasses with these words: "We pledge," and the principle pledge is that the party of "not pledges but deeds, promises that if the people will kill off the democrats and turn down the constitution and immediate statehood, then in that event they will get them a brand new enabling act supposedly untarnished by any possibility of democratic success after the next republican gerrymander. Well that sounds good coming from the party of "not pledges, but deeds."

What has the party done during the last year?

Gerrymandered the two territories by one of the rankest pieces of partisan trickery ever perpetrated on people who were struggling for self government. This did not save their lost cause but contributed the more to their overwhelming defeat at the delegate election.

What did Henry do? Wrote the Santa Fe constitution, which was endorsed by the twelve and commended by all republican papers and the republican press bureau. It took care of the railroads and was exceedingly liberal to common schools, for which it provided a ten mill limit, while the present constitution provides 17 mills.

What else did the party of "not promises but performance" do? Established a press bureau that for false, yellow journalism( apologies to the world) never had an equal. All through the east the yellow press caught up the strain and depicted Oklahoma and Indian Territory. After its work was done and it was too late to undo the damage done by these slanderous falsehoods, the Tulsa World, a republican paper, had the courage to denounce its work in one of the bitterest editorials that has been penned in the territory. The state Capital used its stuff and gloried in the mess.

What else has the party that does things? All its representatives, save one, in the convention refused to sign the constitution which provides for free self-government for one and one-half millions of disfranchised citizens.

But what else, pray, has the party of such large and varied accomplishment to its credit? A campaign of vilification, abuse and obstruction, beginning on the first day of its meeting of the constitutional convention, continuing regardless of facts to distort, magnify and condemn every act of the convention, to the disgust of many fair-minded men of the party that stands not on "promises but performance."

Then two, there is the republican lawsuit campaign, promulgated by Judge Pancoast, punctured by Judge Hainer, and now being vigorously pushed before the supreme court of the United States in which a writ of supersedeas is sought, which if granted would effectually tie up the whole machinery of state making, suspend, and possibly finally defeat statehood. Oh, how the State Capital gloried in Judge Pancoast's decision, while all satellites flapped their wings and crowed. And this is the party whose text is not in promises but in deeds.

Small wonder that under such conditions strong men of the party trembled for its future, and well they might. But all eyes turned to Tulsa, that learned assembly that laid down the challenge that heads this article.

What did they do at Tulsa? "We denounce," and "we promise." The greatest question that ever confronted the people of two territories was before them for solution. The enabling act proscribed the answer "yes" or "no." In face of this they denounced, promised and spread their aprons to catch the plums.

The Tulsa convention failed miserably to meet the one paramount issue of this campaign, confessed its inability to pull the party out of the hole into which its press bureau and its

of the campaign and delivers itself of this evasion worthy of the noblest lot of mollycoddles that ever met in one convention hall.

"The republican party, the especial champion of the doctrine of the free every elector the right to cast his ballot as his enlightened judgment and though so much was to be conceded, the people are much obliged for this concession.

In the days when Judge Pancoast ruled supreme it did not look as though so much was to be conceded, and should that supercedeas still being pressed be granted, so much would not now be conceded.

But what of that burning question of the enabling act, "for or against," "yes or no?" The republican party has confessed itself too weak to face the issue; by innuendo it votes "no," by "pie-wump proclivities, it votes "yes;" by express declaration, quoted above, it confesses its inability to decide what to do or which way to vote on the greatest question that ever confronted the people of these territories, or that ever will confront them.

This, then, is the record of the party that declares: "The true test of the party's worth is its record; not promises, but performance; not pledges, but deeds."—Guthrie Leader.

THE TARIFF AND ITS FRIENDS.

In recognition of the overwhelming sentiment in favor of tariff revision, even some of the most steadfast should be revised after the presidential election to meet changed conditions, but that it must be revised by its friends. One of the changed conditions is that the cost of living in this country has increased more than 50 per cent since the Dingley law went into effect. But an unchanged condition is that many of the Dingley duties, admitted by the author of the bill and other protectionist to be excessive, were imposed with assurances to President McKinley, who opposed many of these rates, that they were made high for the purpose of trading in the making of reciprocity treaties.

Twenty such treaties were negotiated under McKinley's direction, and all of them were smothered in the senate. The "too high" duties have been enjoyed by the trusts and imposed on the people for ten years, and under the present plans of the friends of the tariff, it will be nearly three years more before revision could be accomplished. What encouragement for general revision does the tariff party give when it fails even to correct the grave admitted defects in its system?—Kansas City Star.

WORK THE ROADS.

What are the business citizens of Ada going to do about the wagon roads leading into Ada. Year after year conditions have demanded the expenditure of money on road improvement. Heretofore, the citizens have not waited till so close upon marketing time to become active in making a way for the farmer to get to town with something to sell without thumping a horse or breaking a wagon. Heretofore around a thousand dollars have been expended on country roads. Suppose the 25,000 Club call off their Sulphur imbibers, domino and billiard players for an hour or two and do something practical to get that 25,000 population—for instance spend and raise money for road improvement. By all means raise money and get John Rinard, the good road Samaritan, again at his late summer job.

The navy department figures prominently in the plans looking to the revolutionizing of our naval policy and the unnecessary defying of Japan. What does the department of state think about the situation? Where does Secretary Root stand?—Washington Herald.

Mr. Harriman has learned that it is safer to steal a railroad, or wreck it, as he pleases, than it is to interfere with a dinky little boat race. Mr. Harriman will confine his efforts to plain ordinary railroad robbery and wrecking hereafter.

One of Attorney General Bonaparte's objections to the Oklahoma constitution was that it proved that the writ of habeas corpus should never be suspended. Yet that very provision has been in the Vermont Constitution for upwards of seventy years. Vermont will now please move over among the undeirables until it can correct this evil thing.

AFFECTION OF THE NERVES.

Stammering Not Always Due to Defects in Vocal Organs.

"Stammering is often more the result of habit than from any defect of the vocal organs," says Prof. B. L. Payer. "It is generally, if not always, caused by a spasm of the larynx, resulting from nervous contraction of the organs, thus refusing to permit a proper flow of the air current producing tone. People rarely or never stammer when singing, for then the attention is divided between the words and music, the nervousness is momentarily forgotten and the passage of the air current through the larynx is continuous and unobstructed. Stammering very often is the result of imitation, sometimes intentional, sometimes unconscious, and the affliction is much more general than might be supposed. In one comparatively small section of the city there are 35 stammerers, and every one of them is able to demonstrate to his own satisfaction not only that he does not stammer very badly, but that some other person he knows stammers a great deal worse than himself. Every stammerer is intensely sensitive about his infirmity, rarely forgives and never does forget any allusion to it which in his mind savors of ridicule.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HAD TO GO ON IN AUTO.

Machine Wouldn't Stop and Owner Tried to Wear It Out.

John P. Julius, a prominent piano dealer, of York, Pa., and an enthusiastic automobilist, engaged with his electric auto in an endurance run, which he will not soon forget. While driving along through the city streets something went wrong with the mechanism of his car and he found that he was unable to stop it. Though moving at a lively clip the car's pace was within the speed limit, and Mr. Julius, with great presence of mind, steered it on, meanwhile giving his spare attention to a search for the trouble. This search he finally abandoned, and then began the endurance run, which continued up hill and down through the streets and over country roads for several hours. The machine continued to bowl merrily on, and Mr. Julius was in despair, when he passed a garage and managed to attract the attention of a mechanic, who jumped aboard and by removing a few plugs brought up the runaway.

Pen Economy.

The merchant before filling his inkwell dropped in two or three old pens and poured the writing fluid upon them. "Thus," he said, "I practice pen economy, prolonging three or four times the life of all my pens. You see, the corrosive power of the ink, which is immensely strong, vents itself on the old pens kept in the well and has little or no strength left wherewith to attack the pen I have in use. Try this scheme, young man, and you will find that your pens will practically never wear out."

He Left the House.

While a lady was feeding a hungry tramp the other day she discovered he was pocketing her silver spoons. Opening the door, she exclaimed, "Drop those spoons, you scoundrel, and leave the house!" "But, madam—" "Leave the house, I say!" screamed the infuriated woman. "Leave the house!" "I go, madam," said the tramp, as he reached the front gate, "never to return; but before I go I would like to say that I did not intend to take your house."—Illustrated Bits.

How She Prepared.

A French gentleman anxious to find a wife for a nephew went to a matrimonial agent, who handed him his list of lady clients. Ranning through this he came to his wife's name, entered as desirous of obtaining a husband between the ages of 28 and 35—a blonde preferred. Forgetting his nephew, he hurried home to announce the discovery to his wife. The lady was not at all disturbed. "Oh yes," she said, "that is my name. I put it down when you were so ill in the winter and the doctors said we must prepare for the worst."

Apples Preserved in Ice.

J. C. Braunbeck, of Wallis Run, Lycoming county, Pennsylvania, adopted a unique method of preserving his apples last fall. He built a bin in the orchard seven feet wide, 14 feet long and three feet high. In the bottom of this he put straw, then filled it with apples, putting straw on the sides and ends. Then he placed straw and corn stalks on top. He dug a ditch around it to keep the water from standing there. Some water, however, found its way through the top and formed ice about each of the apples, but they were not disturbed until the ice had all melted. The apples were sound, crisp and without a wrinkle.

A Substitute.

Being very close-listed Mason had never allowed himself the costly habit of smoking. He always felt himself a loser when anyone treated to cigars. But on one occasion, when the party he was with entered a stationery and cigar store, he made up his mind to have his share of the treat. "Won't you smoke this time?" asked the leader. "No, thank you," replied Mason; "but if you don't mind, I believe I'll take a pencil."—Harper's Weekly.

THE TOO FRANK PERSON.

Some Plain Truths as Set Forth by a Woman Writer.

We all know—and respect—and avoid—such persons; the world is full of them—too full for the general comfort of its other inhabitants. And frequently what they call the truth is not abstract at all, but is merely the expression of their own particular (and frequently erroneous) opinions. Yet as they utter it they glow with spiritual pride and feel themselves in the same boat as the Christians of the Catacombs and the rest of the noble army of martyrs; never realizing that their cause is no tenet of an inspired creed, but merely an embodiment of their own pet prejudices; and their sacrifices on its behalf is neither their own life nor wealth, but merely the feelings and the sentiments of other people, says Woman's Life. Such persons are very fond of remarking that they owe it to themselves to say exactly what they think; it never seems to occur to them that they likewise owe it to others to conceal what they think, if such thoughts be inimical to the general pleasantness and well being of society at large; yet surely they have never been taught that their duty to themselves comes before their duty to their neighbors.

ASTONISHED CHILD OF SLUMS.

Pathos in Little Girl's Exclamation of Wonder.

It was a case of the meeting of extremes. A beautifully appointed baby carriage, enameled in white and with all its fittings and coverlets of snowy spotlessness, was being trundled along an uptown street, says the New York Times. In it lay a pink-and-white baby, nestling amid frills of lawn and lace. Approaching from the other direction was a group of little Italian children, evidently on their way home from school. Dressed in heavy-looking clothes of every possible color, the only uniformity presented was the general hue of dirt, which seemed to be common to the clothing, as well as the hands and faces, of all. Certainly the contrast between the baby in the carriage and the children on the street—many of them scarcely more than babies themselves—could not have been more marked. Something of this seemed to impress the children. Pausing for a moment, they gazed at the carriage with admiring eyes, while one little girl, braver than the rest, peering under the hood to get a better look at the occupant, exclaimed: "My! What a whiteness!"

Elephant vs. Crocodile.

An African hunter once found a large crocodile hanging in the fork of a tree about ten feet from the ground. As the place was fully half a mile from any water, it was difficult to account for the crocodile's strange position. When questioned upon the subject the natives explained that it was put there by an elephant. It seems that when the elephants wade into the Lake N'gami to bathe the crocodiles are in the habit of worrying them and biting their legs. Sometimes when an elephant is annoyed beyond endurance it picks its tormentor up and puts it among the branches of a tree and leaves it there.—Tit-Bits.

Why Caged Birds Die.

"So the canary's dead, eh?" said a dealer. "It was a fine bird, too—well worth the $40 you paid me for it. But I don't wonder it died. You would keep it hanging near the ceiling. That is why so many birds die. They shouldn't be kept up high at all. Their cages should be on tables, not hooks. Up near the ceiling the air of a room is very bad, especially at night. Indeed, at night, if you burn oil or gas, the air is insupportable up there. And particularly in rooms where smoking goes on—you know how smoke, like all other impurities, mounts—it is bad to hang birds high. Why can't the world remember the old catch: 'Birds hung high ever die!'"

Good Location for a Doctor.

Two young physicians were exchanging news for the first time since their graduation from the medical school. "I was surprised when I heard you'd settled at Beech Hill," said one to the other, laughing. "I've always heard it spoken of as such a healthy suburb. I wondered if you'd find any patients there." "My dear man," said his classmate, earnestly, "it is a healthy suburb, but it is also the stronghold of football; every family has its automobile, and there never was such a place before for giving children's parties. I'm doing splendidly, thank you."—Youth's Companion.

Love and the Man.

Men are delighted to be told that they are never absent from the thoughts of their sweethearts, but the husband finds this consciousness a trifle wearing. As bad as the clinging vine is the woman who makes her devotion too incessant. She is never tactful, never conscious that he wants to be alone occasionally, never capable of making herself and her affections a novelty to him. And this is a fatal error on the part of any woman.—Exchange.

Napoleon's Famous War Horse.

Marengo, the famous war charger of Napoleon, is said to have been the greatest horse known to modern history. The emperor rode Marengo for the last time in the battle of Mount St. Jean, where the horse received his seventh wound. The steed died at the age of 36 years.

Is Pe-ru-na Useful for Catarrh?

Should a list of the ingredients of Peruna be submitted to any medical expert, of whatever school or nationality, he would be obliged to admit without reserve that each one of them was of undoubted value in chronic catarrhal diseases, and had stood the test of many years' experience in the treatment of such diseases. THERE CAN BE NO DISPUTE ABOUT THIS. Peruna is composed of the most efficacious and universally used herbal remedies for catarrh. Every ingredient of Peruna has a reputation of its own in the cure of some phase of catarrh.

Peruna brings to the home the COMBINED KNOWLEDGE OF SEVERAL SCHOOLS OF MEDICINE in the treatment of catarrhal diseases; brings to the home the scientific skill and knowledge of the modern pharmacist; and last but not least, brings to the home the vast and varied experience of Dr. Hartman, in the use of catarrh remedies, and in the treatment of catarrhal diseases.

The fact is, chronic catarrh is a disease which is very prevalent. Many thousand people know they have chronic catarrh. They have visited doctors over and over again, and been told that their case is one of chronic catarrh. It may be of the nose, throat, lungs, stomach or some other internal organ. There is no doubt as to the nature of the disease. The only trouble is the remedy. This doctor has tried to cure them. That doctor has tried to prescribe for them.

BUT THEY ALL FAILED TO BRING ANY RELIEF.

Dr. Hartman's idea is that a catarrh remedy can be made on a large scale, as he is making it; that it can be made honestly, of the purest drugs and of the strictest uniformity. His idea is that this remedy can be supplied directly to the people, and no more be charged for it than is necessary for the handling of it.

No other household remedy so universally advertised carries upon the label the principal active constituents, showing that Peruna invites the full inspection of the critics.

Poor Paint is Expensive

If one is rich enough to repaint his buildings every year for the pleasure of having a change of color scheme, the quality of the paint used may cut little figure. But if it is desirable to cut the painting bills down to the least amount possible per year, it is of the utmost importance that the paint be made of Pure White Lead and the best of Linseed Oil. There are imitations in the form of alleged White Lead, and there are substitutes in the form of ready-prepared paints.

We guarantee our White Lead to be absolutely pure, and the Dutch Boy on the side of every keg is your safeguard. Look for him.

ADA EVENING NEWS.

ADA. IND. TER.

Performing a Useful Mission.

The Society for Psychical Research has lately exposed certain pseudo spiritualistic manifestations at Windsor, Nova Scotia. The whole town had been stirred by the singular behavior of material things. Boxes and barrels were moved, chairs were rocked, and smaller objects flew through the air with extraordinary force. Upon hearing of this, Prof. Hyslop dispatched his assistant, Mr. Carrington, to the scene, to investigate the report. The latter, who is something of a wizard himself, proved, as Prof. Hyslop says, "that all the alleged phenomena at Windsor which excited public notice were frauds pure and simple." Great pains had been taken by those who perpetrated the tricks to escape detection. A mysterious hogshead, which was said to roll about the streets on its own motion and give forth oracular utterances, was found to have been propelled by two young Nova Scotians, while the voice was that of a boy who was concealed within. Strings had been attached to chairs, and secret openings made in walls and doors. A grocer was found to have been a ringleader in producing the phenomena, having thrown apples, broken eggs and moved packing cases. It is a good thing to have deceptions of this kind discovered, declares the New York Post. Among other things, it helps to give Prof. Hyslop's society a standing in the community and another reason for existence.

Dangers Lurking in Cravats.

Girls who gave neckties to men used to get into the joke papers. Now, no more. Since the notion of wearing knit ties came in a few years ago, the mightiest is not too proud to display such handiwork. And in this act is there not a quaint and charming symbolism? The tie, fashioned by innumerable delicate motions of soft fingers, represents in its final form almost a detached part of the lady herself. Mere thread plus her—that is the tie. And this resultant man, a willing slave, knots around his neck. Might not one almost say that that silken noose, which, minus what her hands have done, would be mere yarn, is indeed her hands? A noose—aye, there's the rub! For if once around one's neck, it is but a step from being caressed to being throttled in the relentless grip of the Superman. Each must decide for himself. As for us, we exclaim the editor of Collier's, we are willing to risk it, provided we get the tie. No, this is not fishing. A man used to have to ask his friends to send him knit ties from the other side. Now they may be picked up in every Broadway shop and are become almost vulgar.

There seems to be no end to the misfortunes attending the French navy, particularly as regards the Toulon station. The latest mishap was a fire on the battleship Hoche, which proved so serious, threatening to reach the magazine and destroy the vessel, that she was sunk to extinguish the flames. From the beginning of the year to the present time there have been 20 more or less notable occurrences in the French navy. The worst was the explosion on the battleship Iena while lying at her dock at Toulon, when over a hundred lives were lost. Other casualties include the total wreck of the cruisers Jean Bart and Chanzy, the loss of several submarine boats and torpedo destroyers, damages by collision while maneuvering and so on. It looks as though an able-bodied hoodoo is working overtime making trouble for French ships and sailors.

Grumblers.

Grumblers who have fallen into the habit of complaining about their real or imaginary troubles are nuisances to those who associate with them. The business man who is ever grumbling and growling about things makes a blue atmosphere about him. There is no good in grumbling. Grumbling is an evidence that you are looking at the world through blue glasses; that you haven't the proper estimate of other people. Grumbling is an advertisement to the world that you are not a success, says New York Weekly. Grumbling won't help things a bit. The more you indulge yourself in grumbling the quicker you form the habit, and it becomes so fixed upon you that later on you find it almost impossible to shake it off.

That forestry is growing in importance is evident from the care given the matter in educational institutions and the number of persons taking this course of instruction. It is announced from Washington that no less than 35 young men who have just graduated from American schools of forestry have entered the government service. They come from Yale, Harvard, Michigan, Nebraska and other universities and colleges. The cause is one to which talent and skill may well be devoted.

Jack and the Apple.
It was during an arithmetic class in a country school that Jake Boggs was called upon to solve a problem. "Now, Jake," began the teacher, "if you have two apples and your little brother took one how many would you have left?" "I'd just like to see him try taking one," said Jake, shaking his fist. "Well," said the teacher, "we'll put it this way. Suppose you gave him one." "Yes; but I wouldn't do it," said Jake. "Just supposing you did, what would remain?" said the weary teacher. "A big fool, that's what," replied Jake.—Judge.

WAITING FOR THE FUN.

Youngster Had Reason to Expect "Something Would Happen."

An old gentleman, rather portly and clad in a somewhat youthful suit of light gray flannel, sat on a bench in the park enjoying the day, relates the Woman's Home Companion. "What's the matter, sonny?" he asked a small urchin who lay on the grass just across the walk and stared intently. "Why don't you go and play?" "Don't wanter," the boy replied. "But it is not natural," the old gentleman insisted, "for a boy to be so quiet. Why don't you run about?" "Oh, I'm just waitin'," the little fellow answered. "I'm just waitin' till you get up. A man painted that bench about fifteen minutes ago."

"The Armless Man"

said, "It wasn't money he wanted, but somebody to scratch his back." There are many with strong arms and willing hands that have that same yearning. Hunt's Cure will make back scratching, or any other old scratching totally unnecessary. It knocks out any itching sensation that ever happened, and it does it right now. One application relieves.

CATARRH BLOOD AND SYSTEM DISORDERED

Catarrh is not merely an inflammation of the tissues of the head and throat, as the symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, mucous dropping back into the throat, continual hawking and spitting, etc., would seem to indicate; it is a blood disease in which the entire circulation and the greater part of the system are involved. Catarrh is due to the presence of an excess of uric acid in the blood. The Liver, Kidneys and Bowels frequently become torpid and dull in their action and instead of carrying off the refuse and waste of the body, leave it to sour and form uric acid in the system. This is taken up by the blood and through its circulation distributed to all parts of the system. These impurities in the blood irritate and inflame the different membranes and tissues of the body, and the contracting of a cold will start the secretions and other disgusting and disagreeable symptoms of Catarrh. As the blood goes to all parts of the body the catarrhal poison affects all parts of the system. The head has a tight, full feeling, nose continually stopped up, pains above the eyes, slight fever comes and goes, the stomach is upset and the entire system disordered and affected by this disease. It is a waste of time to try to cure Catarrh with sprays, washes, inhalations, etc. Such treatment does not reach the blood, and can, therefore, do nothing more than temporarily relieve the discomfort of the trouble. To cure Catarrh permanently the blood must be thoroughly purified and the system cleansed of all poisons, and at the same time strengthened and built up. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head, goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and makes a complete and lasting cure. S. S. S. removes every particle of the catarrhal poison from the blood, making this vital stream pure, fresh and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, the head is loosened and cleared, the hawking and spitting cease, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and vigorous health restored. S. S. S. also tones up the stomach and digestion and acts as a fine tonic to the entire system. If you are suffering with Catarrh begin the use of S. S. S. and write us a statement of your case and our physicians will send you literature about Catarrh, and give you special medical advice without charge. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores.

Buy a Good Farm Now

Dr. C. F. Simmons is Offering the People of This Section the Greatest Opportunity They Ever Had to Own a Beautiful Truck or Fruit Farm.

Why Not Buy Now at Practically No Cost to You. The Chance May Never Come Your Way Again.

Mr. W. N. Hutto, the well known gentleman of Jackboro, Texas, writes: Jackboro, Texas, Feb. 26, 1907.

Dr. C. F. Simmons, San Antonio, Texas.
My Dear Sir:—I have just returned from Atascosa County, where I went for the purpose of investigating your 95,000-acre ranch proposition. I spent the 21st 22nd and 23rd of this February on the ranch, and during those three days I drove not less than 125 miles and visited every part of the ranch, and examined the property as thoroughly as it was possible to do within that time.

I saw every artesian well on the ranch except the one in the Hall pasture. I was near it and could have seen it by turning back, but I had already seen enough to satisfy me, and did not take the time to back. I took your booklet, "New Home Sweet Home" with me and I compared the pictures in it with what I saw, and I found them absolutely correct. I saw all the artesian wells I saw, and the water was good for drinking and all other purposes in and out of the ranch except the gas well. I did not like it very well, but I have tasted a great deal of worse water. I am sure it is good for all stock and irrigation purposes. I saw the cattle drink it, and they seem to be thriving on it. I put a match to the gas well and it began to burn at once.

I am of the opinion that oil is to be found on this land. Just off of it there is an oil well from which I procured a bottle of oil which I carried home with me.

I talked with Mr. Brown, the gentleman now employed in putting down an artesian well on your land for you, and he told me that he had been drilling wells in that vicinity for the last six years, and that good water can be obtained at any place on the ranch from forty to two hundred feet, and that flowing wells can be obtained anywhere on the ranch at depths ranging from three hundred feet up.

The land is all as good as represented by you, and lots of it much better. The Votaw pasture is the best all purpose land I ever saw.

I shall recommend all of my friends who want comfortable homes in the best climate in the world to purchase from you.

I am more than pleased with what I saw, and as you have said, it is the "Opportunity of a Lifetime," especially for the man with small means.

Wishing you success in disposing of this land, and furnishing homes within the reach of the ordinary man, I remain,

Very truly yours, W. N. HUTTO.

Write today for book of views and full description of the ranch. $210—payable $10 a month until paid, without interest, will buy a 10 to 640 acre farm and two town lots in the paradise of America.

APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT

Commercial Interests Petition Roosevelt to Take a Personal Hand in Telegraphers Strike--Labor Leaders Will Confer

Chicago, Aug. 14.—The Chicago Board of Trade has formally called upon President Roosevelt to take a personal hand in settling the present strike of telegraphers and avert a catastrophe.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 14.—President Roosevelt was asked by the Produce Exchange to act as mediator in the telegraphers' strike. A telegram to that effect was sent him today.

Following the arrival in Chicago of Sylvester J. Small, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, it is expected that the issue in the strike now in progress will come before a conference between the leader and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, with Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor, and Wesley Russell, secretary of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union.

Commercial interests in the United States have manifested their discomfort under its effect by making in several cases a demand upon the president to undertake the task of bringing the contending forces to an agreement.

DEBATE WAS A HOT ONE

"Cyclone" Davis and W. M. Hicks Discuss Prohibition—Also Each Other, Making the Fur Fly

The people of Ada turned out en masse Wednesday night, expectant of a lively debate on prohibition between Rev. W. M. Hicks of Guthrie, and Judge J. H. Davis, of Sulphur Springs, Texas. And the crowd was by no means disappointed. The discussion was one of sustained interest from beginning to end, at times fairly bristling with excitement.

Both speakers are veterans of the platform. Judge Davis has a national reputation as a forensic "cyclone" and Rev. Hicks is a "live wire" in his line. Dr. F. Z. Holley and Carlton Weaver jointly presided at the meeting, which was held in the open air on Broadway. The former introduced Hicks who opened the debate with a speech of one hour and 5 minutes. Mr. Weaver then presented Judge Davis, who spoke for the same length of time, followed by a rejoinder of 25 minutes by the first speaker. It was near midnight when the last word was said, but so intense was the interest almost everyone of the great crowd remained to the end.

Hicks explained to the audience that he came not to defend liquor, nor representing the liquor interests, but to oppose the plan of state wide prohibition. Insisting he, too, desired the abolition of the liquor traffic, he argued that local option was the only practical effectual plan for suppressing the same; that the state-wide plan had universally proven a failure; that it does not and can not actually prohibit in communities where the majority of the people are not in sympathy with the law forced upon them. In support of his assertions the speaker produced numerous statistics. By these he endeavored to show that under state-wide prohibition crime and pauperism springing from jointism and bootlegging are more plentiful than with licensed saloons.

Judge Davis in his address laid down the premise that the traffic in intoxicating liquors is essentially an evil that should be suppressed; that local option is nothing more than prohibition in spots—the two being slightly different means to the same end. His opponent he said, had urged the identical arguments the liquor interests always urge when a prohibition campaign is on, had quoted the same statistics and used the same tactics of advocating some other remedy. The enemy dare not make any defense of the traffic—it has none. All the laws re violated with local option, the jointists and bootleggers will invade the counties just as they do under state-wide prohibition. It is simply a question of officers doing their duty. As well ridicule the gambling and pistol law because men persist in gambling and carrying weapons, as to oppose prohibition because men will violate the law.

After painting in blackest colors the evils of the saloon and the woes to mankind emanating from it, the speaker graphically described the lineup in the present campaign: The churches, the ministers, most of the good people—God's forces—on the one side; on the other the breweries, the saloons, every bum, thug, vagabond, and bootlegger—most undesirable company for good men.

Then Judge Davis read a number of letters and certificates reflecting upon the integrity and consistency of his opponent, tending to prove Hicks had applied to the Anti-Saloon League of Oklahoma for employment in the present campaign, and that subsequently for a handsome sum he had gone over to the so-called "Citizens' League" to fight prohibition. The speaker closed with an eloquent appeal to all good people to vote right and bring the new state into the union clean.

The personal arraignment of Hicks appeared to be a smashing one. However, when he arose for his rejoinder, he made a right clever defense, claiming all his correspondence with the anti-saloon league contemplated prohibition only through the means of local option. The big retainer from the brewery interests and other reflections upon his integrity he denounced as infamously false. He initiated the Citizens' League which said his expenses had nothing to do with the liquor interests, that the latter were naturally against both prohibition and local option. Judge Davis, he said, had merely indulged in oratorical generalities and had failed to answer a scintilla of his arguments.

At numerous periods both speakers were liberally applauded, but the bulk of the audience was manifestly in sympathy with the prohibition clause.

CALL FOR CONVENTION.

THURSDAY'S OKLAHOMAN.

As Oklahoman's Ada Correspondent Saw the Debate Wednesday Night.
Ada, I. T., Aug. 14.—W. L. Hicks, a traveling representative of the Citizens' League, and "Cyclone Jim" Davis debated the prohibition question here tonight before an audience of 2,000 persons. Hicks, who favored local option, won out and challenged Davis to go with him to Oklahoma City to present the issues to an audience there, volunteering to pay all expenses, but the offer was declined.

Oklahoma Central Plans.

Chickasha, I. T., Aug. 15.—Officials of the Oklahoma Central in Blanchard stated positively that the road would be finished into Chickasha within the next thirty days. The road is finished into Blanchard, twenty-five miles east of here, and the grade is completed to this city. The steel gang is working several miles east of Blanchard. The officers would say nothing in regard to the rumor of the road's being sold to eastern capital, but stated the road had plenty of money to finish the construction.

A SHADY RECORD.

"The true test of the party's worth is in its record, not promises, but performance, not pledges, but deeds."

—Republican platform.

Good point! Glad it was mentioned. Might have been overlooked had not attention been called to it.

But before going backward let us note the present attitude. So far as the enigma in that platform is capable of solution, the sole purpose of the party in regard to the constitution and attending statehood is to obstruct.

After plucking a bunch of eagle feathers from that proud but much abused bird the platform opens with these words: "And we denounce."

Then follows a list of adjectives that would puzzle the most learned lexicographer this side of the great Noah Webster and make the shade of John J. Ingalls turn pale and take to the thickets of the Elysian fields, or such other fields as would best hide his shame.

But the substantives and definite meaning, it is as void the mud flats of the Mississippi delta are of sand storms of the Sahara desert. "We denounce" is the keynote. A nice start for a party that claims to do things, but actually performs the simple role of obstructionist and denunciator of other men's work.

Then the party of "not pledges but deeds" opens a keg of molasses with these words: "We pledge" and the principle pledge is that the party of "not pledges but deeds, promises that if the people will kill off the democrats and turn down the constitution and immediate statehood then in that event they will get them a brand new enabling act supposedly untarnished by any possibility of democratic success after the next republican gerrymander. Well that sounds good coming from the party of "not pledges but deeds."

What has the party done during the last year? Gerrymandered the two territories by one of the rankest pieces of partisan trickery ever perpetrated on people who were struggling for self government. This did not save their lost cause but contributed more to their overwhelming defeat at the delegate election.

What did Henry do? Wrote the Santa Fe constitution which was endorsed by the twelve and commended by all republican papers and the republican press bureau. It took care of the railroads and was exceedingly liberal to common schools for which it provided a ten mill limit, while the present constitution provides 17 mills.

What else did the party of "not promises but performance" do? Established a press bureau that for false yellow journalism apologies to the world never had an equal. All through the year the yellow press caught up the story and tried to Oklahoma and Indian Territory. After its work was done and it was too late to undo the damage done by this slanderous falsehoods the Tulsa World a republican paper had the courage to denounce its work in one of the latest editorials that has been printed in the territory. The story of its staff and its staff and its staff.

What else has the party of "not promises but performance" done? All its resources were thrown in the convention to fight to gain the constitution which provides for three government for one and one-half millions of distressed citizens. But what else has the party of "not promises but performance" accomplished to its credit? A campaign of vilification, abuse and obstruction, beginning on the first day of its meeting of the constitutional convention continuing regardless of facts to distort magnify and condemn every act of the convention, to the disgust of many far-sighted men of the party that stands not on "promises but performance."

Then two there is the republican lawsuit campaign, promulgated by Judge Pancoast punctured by Judge Hanne and now being vigorously pushed before the supreme court of the United States in which a writ of supersedeas is sought, which if granted would effectually tie up the whole machinery of state making, suspend, and possibly finally defeat statehood. Oh, how the State Capital glories in Judge Pancoast's decision while all satellites flapped their wings and crowed. And this is the party whose text is not in promises but in deeds.

of the campaign and delivers itself of this evasion worthy of the noblest lot of mollycoddles that ever met in one convention hall.

"The republican party, the especial champion of the doctrine of the free every elector the right to cast his ballot as his enlightened judgment and though so much was to be conceded, the people are much obliged for this concession."

In the days when Judge Pancoast ruled supreme it did not look as though so much was to be conceded, and should that supercilious still being pressed be granted, so much would not now be conceded.

But what of that burning question of the enabling act, for or against "yes or no?" The republican party has confessed itself too weak to face the issue, by innuendo it votes "yes," by express declaration, quoted above, it confesses its inability to decide what to do or which way to vote on the greatest question that ever confronted the people of these territories or that ever will confront them.

This then, is the record of the party that declares "The true test of the party's worth is its record, not promises but performance, not pledges, but deeds."—Guthrie Leader

THE TARIFF AND ITS FRIENDS.

In recognition of the overwhelming sentiment in favor of tariff revision, even some of the most steadfast should be revised after the presidential election to meet changed conditions, but that it must be revised by its friends. One of the changed conditions is that the cost of living in this country has increased more than 50 per cent since the Dingley law went into effect. But an unchanged condition is that many of the Dingley duties admitted by the author of the bill and other protectionist to be excessive, were imposed with assurances to President McKinley, who opposed many of these rates that they were made high for the purpose of trading in the making of reciprocity treaties.

Twenty such treaties were negotiated under McKinley's direction and all of them were smothered in the senate. The too high duties have been enjoyed by the trusts and imposed on the people for ten years, and under the present plans of the friends of the tariff it will be nearly three years more before revision could be accomplished. What encouragement for general revision does the tariff party give when it fails even to correct the grave admitted defects in its system?—Kansas City Star

WORK THE ROADS.

What are the business citizens of Ada going to do about the wagon roads leading into Ada? Year after year conditions have demanded the expenditure of money on road improvement. Heretofore the citizens have not waited till so close upon marketing time to become active in making a way for the farmer to get to town with something to sell without thumping a horse or breaking a wagon. Heretofore around a thousand dollars have been expended on country roads. Suppose the 25,000 Club call off their Sulphur smokers, domino and billiard players for an hour or

APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT

Commercial Interests Petition Roosevelt to Take a Personal Hand in Telegraphers Strike--Labor Leaders Will Confer

Chicago Aug 14—The Chicago Board of Trade has formally called upon President Roosevelt to take a personal hand in settling the present strike of telegraphers and avert a catastrophe.

Toledo, Ohio Aug 14—President Roosevelt was asked by the Produce Exchange to act as mediator in the telegraphers' strike. A telegram to that effect was sent him today.

Following the arrival in Chicago of J. Small, president of the Commercial Telegraphers Union, it is expected that the issue in the strike now in progress will come before a conference between the leader and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor with Charles P. Neill, United States commissioner of labor and Wesley Russell, secretary of the Commercial Telegraphers' union.

Commercial interests in the United States have manifested their discomfort under its effect by making in several cases a demand upon the president to undertake the task of bringing the contending forces to an agreement.

DEBATE WAS A HOT ONE

"Cyclone" Davis and W. M. Hicks Discuss Prohibition—Also Each Other, Making the Fur Fly

The people of Ada turned out en masse Wednesday night expectant of a lively debate on prohibition between Rev. W. M. Hicks of Guthrie and Judge J. H. Davis of Sulphur Springs, Texas. And the crowd was by no means disappointed. The discussion was one of sustained interest from beginning to end, at times fairly bristling with excitement.

Both speakers are veterans of the platform. Judge Davis has a national reputation as a forensic "cyclone" and Rev. Hicks is a live wire in his line. Dr. F. Z. Holley and Carlton Weaver jointly presided at the meeting, which was held in the open air on Broadway. The former introduced Hicks who opened the debate with a speech of one hour and a minute. Mr. Weaver then presented Judge Davis who spoke for the same length of time, followed by a rejoinder of 25 minutes by the first speaker. It was near midnight when the last word was said but so intense was the interest almost everyone of the great crowd remained to the end.

Hicks explained to the audience that he came not to defend liquor nor representing the liquor interests but to oppose the plan of state wide prohibition. Insisting he too desired the abolition of the liquor traffic he argued that local option was the only practical effectual plan for suppressing the same. That the state wide plan had universally proven a failure that it does not and can not actually prohibit in communities where the majority of the people are not in sympathy with the law forced upon them. In support of his assertions the speaker produced numerous statistics. By these he endeavored to show that under state wide prohibition crime and pauperism springing from intemperance and bootlegging are more plentiful than with licensed saloons.

Judge Davis in his address laid down the premise that the traffic in intoxicating liquors is essentially an evil that should be suppressed. That local option is nothing more than prohibition in spots—the two being slightly different means to the same end. His opponent he said had urged the identical arguments the liquor interests always urge when a prohibition campaign is on. Had quoted the same statistics and used the same tactics of advocating some other remedy. The enemy dare not make any defense of the traffic—it has none. All the laws are violated with local option the joint-ess and bootleggers will invade the counties just as they do under state wide prohibition. It is simply a question of officers doing their duty. As well ridicule the gambling and pistol law because men persist in gambling and carrying weapons as to oppose prohibition because men will violate the law.

After painting in blackest colors the evils of the saloon and the woes to mankind emanating from it the speaker graphically described the line-up in the present campaign. The churches the ministers most of the good people—God's forces—on the one side on the other the breweries the saloons every bum thug vagabond and bootlegger—most undesirable company for good men.

Then Judge Davis read a number of letters and certificates reflecting upon the integrity and consistency of his opponent tending to prove Hicks had applied to the Anti-Saloon League of Oklahoma for employment in the present campaign and that subsequently for a handsome sum he had gone over to the so-called Citizens League to fight prohibition. The speaker closed with an eloquent appeal to all good people to vote right and bring the new state into the union clean.

The personal arraignment of Hicks appeared to be a smashing one. However when he arose for his rejoinder he made a right clever defense claiming all his correspondence with the anti-saloon league contemplated prohibition only through the means of local option. The big retainer from the brewery interests and other reflections upon his integrity he denounced as infamously false. He insisted the Citizens League which said his expenses had nothing to do with the liquor interests, that the latter were naturally against both prohibition and local option. Judge Davis, he said, had merely indulged in oratorical generalities and had failed to answer a scintilla of his arguments.

At numerous periods both speakers were liberally applauded, but the bulk of the audience was manifestly in sympathy with the prohibition clause.

THURSDAY'S OKLAHOMAN.

As Oklahoma's Ada Correspondent Saw the Debate Wednesday Night.

Ada 1 T Aug 14—W. L. Hicks a traveling representative of the Citizens League and Cyclone Jim Davis debated the prohibition question here tonight before an audience of 2000 persons. Hicks who favored local option won out and challenged Davis to go with him to Oklahoma City to present the issues to an audience there volunteering to pay all expenses but the offer was declined.

Oklahoma Central Plans.
Chickasha, I. T. Aug 15—Officials of the Oklahoma Central in Blanchard stated positively that the road would be finished into Chickasha within the next thirty days. The road is finished into Blanchard twenty-five miles east of here and the grade is completed to this city. The steel gang is working several miles east of Blanchard. The officers would say nothing in regard to the rumor of the road's being sold to eastern capital but stated the road had plenty of money to finish the construction.
